

THE GUANTÁNAMO PUBLIC MEMORY PROJECT

This traveling exhibit examines the history of the U.S. naval base in Guantánamo Bay, Cuba from multiple perspectives and raises questions about U.S.-Cuban, civil liberties, national security, and public memory in the past, present, and future.

Guantánamo: Evening performance with Artspot Productions & The Graduates

It is my hope as a result of The Graduates' performance, people will see what female ex-felons experience physically, mentally, and emotionally as well as spiritually from incarceration. Greater, my hope is that people's perceptions of felons will soften if not change.

- Sherral Kahey, founding Graduates member

SPEAKERS

— Meg Garvey —
Managing Director

Louisiana Center for Children's Rights

— Jerrod Thompson-Hicks —

Second Chances Project, Staff Attorney
Louisiana Center for Children's Rights

Plus additional guests.

NOVEMBER 8, 2014 | 7 p.m. Ashé Cultural Arts Center

For more information about the Guantánamo Public Memory Project visit <http://gitmomemory.org>

1712 Oretha Castle Haley Blvd. | New Orleans | 504-569-9070 | www.ashecac.org